Kumamoto Kita High School

Summary

In society, there are many kinds of people so it's important for us to engage with people. We want to change the attitudes of people around us and ourselves so that people with disabilities can attend regular schools without worry.

Background

One of the members wanted to know about her junior who is deaf.

We are interested in a drama about sign language.

Purpose

To make an opportunity to think more about people with disabilities.

By learning about the world of the deaf, we are able to broaden our views.

Research methods

We went to a school for deaf students.

We had social gatherings with them, so we heard about the difficulties in their daily lives and happy experiences.

Result

We heard about the difficulties in their daily lives and their happy experiences.

For example, they have difficulty when they see a doctor, use public transport such as bus and train and eat out. Second, people's help makes them happy. In the COVID-19 pandemic, many people wore masks. So deaf people had trouble understanding spoken words because they couldn't watch the movement of a speaker's lips. But some people took off their masks so that deaf people could understand what they said.

Conclusion

We recommend you to see the movie about deaf people, titled "Coda". We will be able to realize the difficulties not only of deaf people but also their families. In order to be able to communicate just by showing, we made these cards.

We can't understand each other completely, not just for deaf people. So we have to use words and sign languages and help each other
